“DO we need to build more drilling rigs?
The outlook for the offshore drilling industry”

By Mr. Gavin Strachan
Principal, ODS-Petrodata

ABSTRACT

Rig owners are enjoying an unprecedented run-up in demand and dayrates; can this be sustained? This presentation will consider:
- Day rates and the outlook for the market.
- Financing rigs during the credit-crunch
- How will offshore activity change and develop in the short and medium term?
- Understanding the basics: the demand for energy and offshore activity.
- The Asian market for offshore drilling rigs: when will the good times end?
- Evaluating the impact of deeper water and increasingly complicated projects.

This presentation will investigate the current and expected state of the offshore rig market.
- How will offshore activity change and develop in the short and longer term?
- Understanding the basics: the demand for energy and offshore activity.
- The Asian market for offshore drilling rigs: will the good times end?
- Longer term forecasts: supply, demand and dayrates
- Financing rigs during the credit-crunch

ABOUT THE SPEAKER

Gavin Strachan is a leading authority on the offshore drilling market. In the 1980s he was Shorebase Manager and also Worldwide Marketing and Contracts Manager with the UK’s largest offshore drilling contractor.

Mr. Strachan was the founding editor of The Financial Times World Fax and World Rig Forecast in the early 1990s, before establishing Bassoe Offshore Consultants in 1995, which specialised in forecasting the offshore drilling industry. Bassoe merged with the present ODS-Petrodata in 2002. Gavin holds a MA (Hons) from Corpus Christi College, Cambridge. In 2002 he was awarded Lehman Brothers’ - “The Smartest Person in the Offshore Industry in 2001”.
